Fo say the least, many ingredients played a part in our successful football season. Planning, organization, conditioning, enthusiasm knowledge, discipline, talent, confidence, and administrative backing were all important tors.

Nevertheless, there was one ingredient in particular that contributed most — deep dedication to a goal. To explain this requires a care ful look at some pertinent background

Our desire for winning really had its beginning two years prior to the season in which it culminated. I had the good fortune of coaching some of the team members when they were in the tenth grade. It was at this point in their development that the groundwork was laid

They told themselves that they could eventually be winners during their high school careers if they worked hard. Their method for attaining this goal was simple — be receptive to coaching, work hard to improve their ability through practicing and playing

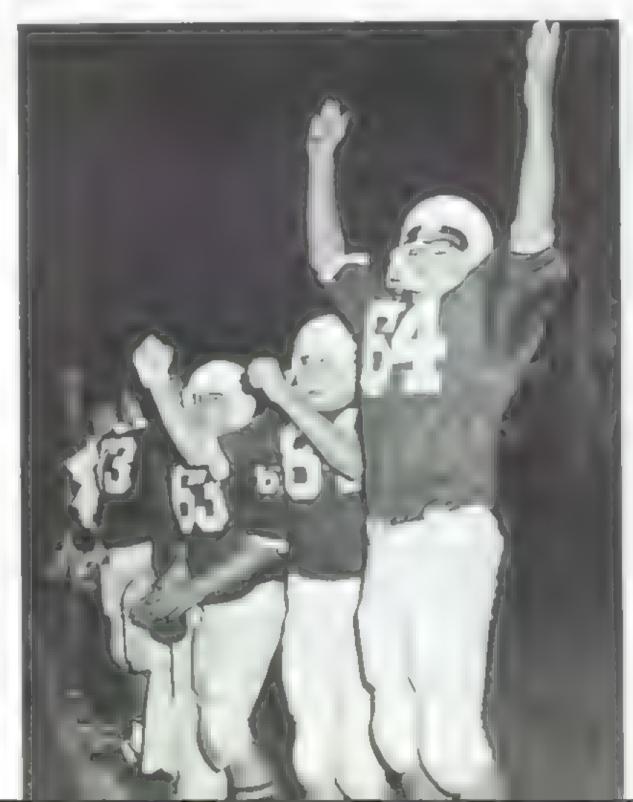

The players sensed the sincere interest that the coaches had for them as human beings. Out of this personal interest flourished the positive attitude on the part of the players — an attitude of mutual confidence in the coaches and players.

Last but not least another important phase in our winning season was administrative backing. This was coupled with student and community support. We received much inspiriation from these sources. A "winning fever" engulied our school and all were caught up in it especially the players. The players refused to let themselves as well as their followers down and they didn't

Another Successful Season

The lake and the autumn trees at Nature Trails Golf Course provide the perfect race setting for the Lakota invitational

The Raider Cross Country Team had an outstanding year as they won 10 out of 11 dual meets. Only an opening meet loss to Fremont Ross marred an otherwise perfect record. The Raiders won big meet championships at the Lakota Invitational Surburban Lakes League, and Clyde Sectional. Only a sub par day in the district meet prevented the Raiders from a trip to the State.

Most of the fine success was the result of four outstanding senior runners. Allen Swaisgood recorded the second fastest time ever at Lakota, setting a new home course record, and raced to individual championship in 3 major meets. Gerard Gabel recorded the third fastest time ever as he earned his fourth varsity letter. During Gerard's career his teams won 37 meets and lost only two. Geary Wise became the seventh fastest runner as he won his third letter Mark Munoz showed great dedication and improvement to move into the ninth spot on the all time list.

Four sophomores: Jeff Kline, Gerald Gavel, Dan Garcia, and Kevin Dawson developed and joined with the seniors to give this team excellent depth. Together they set a new record for the total time of the first five runners as they broke the old record set by the State Championship team of 1970

The greatest of this team was not so much their outstanding record but their great closeness and pride. Certainly they greatly added to the tradition of running at Lakota

Our 1972-73 season was one of many ups and downs as we constantly were striving for improvement. Even though many times this did not come easy for the Raider team. A complete, dedicated effort was always evident. This speaks highly of the individual members and the team unit. Everyone who saw Lakota play basketball knew that hustle and desire were not lacking

We did have individual effort and honors for some players this past season but undoubtably the total team effort and united attitude accounted for most of our success.

Many things were accomplished this season with attitude, desire, dedication, and skills. Hopefully Raider basketbal teams of the future will be able to add to a fine tradition of unselfishness and effort that this year's team has begun

The wrestling program this season developed into one of the best teams in the history of Lakota wrestling, and certainly the best for Coach Yount. The outstanding performances from the seven seniors on the squad enabled the other members of the team to improve of their wrestling for the coming years. With strong support from both the J. V team and our following we were uble to win the first Suburban Lakes League wrestling conference and send aix wrestlers on to the district tournament, the most Lakota ever had. Several new records were also established by way of Al Nighswander's 16 pins, Jim Bond's 51 power points, and Tim Carter and Tom Hammer carning fourth year letters

After two long weeks of preparation for the final try outs varsity and reserve cheerleaders were chosen. During the summer, the varsity squad attended Waldenwoods Cheerleading Camp in Michigan, and the reserves attended a cheerleading clinic at Toledo University Both the varsity and reserve learned many new cheers and chants to help boost Raider spirit. The last two weeks of summer found them practicing hard to be ready for the upcoming football season.

New uniforms were displayed during football and basketball seasons by both squads

The freshmen cheerleaders were chosen at the beginning of the year. Varsity and reserves helped them during try outs and also during the school year The freshmen squid acquired much experience, which will be valuable to then; in later years

The main job for the cheerleaders was to boost spirit. Numerous signs were made and posted throughout the school. Spirit soared in the many well planned pep rallies. Each team was cheered on to a successful season finish.

The cheerleaders also helped with the pep club. The pep club too displayed new uniforms. New cheers were taught and the pep club appeared at most of the games to cheer the Ruiders onto vic-

The 1972-73 Homecoming Week, from beginning to end proved to be a definite success as all classes participated to their fullest. On Monday, the first annual Marshmallow Eating Contest took place with Ed Broski as the winner and Larry Lentz as the runnerup. The decorating of the school followed. Taesday was foot ball player recognition day with each class honoring their chosen player. The court was honored at an assembly Thurs day, which also included such events as dress-up day and voting for Queen Many activities the same night such as a Powder Puff Football game with the apperclassmen winning, a spirited bon fire with the Eastwood dummy burnt and skits rounded up a unifying day for all

Despite extremely rarry we inher Frid is night, the game was played and spirits were high as the Raiders gave us a home-coming victory score of 48-12 over Eastwood. Pre-game activities included the crowning of Terri Betts as queen by Deb Stabl, 1971-72 queen. The dance finished the week on Saturday night with the queen and court reigning over the festivities. The theme this year was Sentimental Journey

It was the end of summer. August 16 to be exact, when the 1972 Raider Marching Band met for the first time under the direction of Miss Nancy Haffey. They practiced hard through the extremes of this summer, first blistering hot then tropical rains. Through it all marched these fine stepping Raiders and the moral went unblemished. They came on to perform numbers during their halftime shows and liven up school spirit. The team could always count on the band for support

In addition to their outstanding work on the field the Band managed to gain enough money from Tag Day to buy new uniforms. Another money making project andertaken by the Band was the selling of calenders

The 1972-73 Student Council, led by President Geary Wise, began the school year in promoting school spirit by planning an outstanding homecoming activities week in early October. They then turned their effort toward improving school-community relations by initiating the formation of the first Lakota Faculty-Student Board, adopting a grandmother and helping to acquire funds for the Gienn Massie Memorial Fund. All of these projects were in addition to the normal work load of assembly planning, workshop planning, and recognizing and attempting to solve problems.

This year's Council was undoubtedly one of the most active and outstanding Student Councils at Lakota, and much of the success can be attributed to each of the interested members. As advisor, I would like to thank each member for his or her cooperation and association. To the senior members, I wish each of you wisdom and results in your future roles as leaders.

Seniors Work Diligently for Twelve Years

The senior year for a high school student is many things. Of course it is the homocoming, the prom, and student government day but for the Class of '73 it goes much further than this. It is the last high school football game, basketball game, or track meet you'll see where you can go up to your best friend or worst enemy and say "You ran a fine race' of You're really doing great". It's the last time you'll see many of your friends that you may have known for 12 years. Your senior year is marked with many triumphs, many hardships many disappointments, a great deal of work, and of course you have fun which seems to make it all worthwhile

The Class of '73 graduates in a year that was marked with peace in a seemingly endless conflict and another spectacular moon voyage, which is significant of the world these seniors are entering For some, this year meant passing a tough course, earning a varsity letter, or getting through with school, but to all it is a year to look back upon with pride while looking toward the future with dig-

Juniors Attain Wisdom, Knowledge With Age

The junior class is led by pres. Judy Foos, vice pres. Kathy French, treas, Linda Feehan and reporter Mitch Haubert, Absent, sec. Sharon Shiles

Half way through their high school years, a junior finds himself. His goals are no longer dreams but reality. He finds himself one year closer to graduation, one year closer to the grave decisions life may hold.

But being a junior is not all serious. One may look back on their previous years of school and laugh at the things they once did.

This years class may well look back on their successful candy sales, putting up and tearing down decorations for the prom. They may recall the great teamwork that won them the spirit stick at pep railies, even though outnumbered nearly two to one by other classes.

More than looking back, however, they will look ahead to their senior year, and ill the responsibilities senior life brings

The class of '75 gained much during their second year at Lakota; knowledge of subjects, themselves, and others. They learned to work together as a whole, as shown by their many outstanding achievements. Their abilities were rewarded with a first place for homecoming decorating winning the spirit jug several times, and necessing their class treasury with profits from a dance, a case ratfle, the sale of "Raider" buttons and dues

Their year was full of decisions, personal and public Class rings were chosen in the early fall. Plans for the future were made through scheduling of further courses at Lakota or Vanguard. The whole year was a learning experience between faculty and student, and among students themselves. Extracurricular activities enabled them to meet new people and develop socially.

Sophomores discovered the true meaning of friends as they learned to understand and accept themselves, other people and situations for what they were as they searched for the purpose of their lives. Their year at Lakota was a good one one to be cherished and remembered always. A year to build on The class of 75 has a great future to look forward to Sophomores have two more years at Lakota before they graduate in which to learn, encounter, and experience the mysteries of life. Time to prepare, plan and execute their plans. Time to achieve to fail but to forever try

Freshmen class officers start off with, Ron Conley, President; Tammy Stephenson Vice President, Mary Spittler, Secretary, and Deb Tanner, Treasurer

The class of '76 came to Lakota High and found many new and enlightening experiences some rewarding, others exciting and even some depressing ones at first

The freshmen chose their class officers as a whole class before coming to high school. The officers did a fantastic job of leading them through their first year at Lakota

Also chosen by the entire class was the homocoming attendent, Miss Deb Heminger of Bradner

Although they tried their hardest, the freshmen received fourth place in the homecoming decorations

This year wou do't have been such a great experience if it hadn't been for the helpful advice from their class advisors. Mr Balsizer and Mr Scherger

This year was truly enriching in many ways for the class of '76. They will always remember these new experiences is they look at they years to come.
